DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Claims 127-174 and 188-189 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 7/16/03.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 175-187 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. The claimed method consists solely of the manipulation of an abstract idea and is not concrete or tangible. See In re Warmerdam, 33 F.3d 1354, 1360, 31 USPQ2d 1754, 1759 (Fed. Cir. 1994). See also Schrader, 22 F.3d at 295, 30 USPQ2d at 1459. In addition, the claim is devoid of any limitation to a practical application in the technological arts and includes merely a trivial use of technology (see MPEP 2106).

For a claim to be statutory, it must be in the technological arts (see In re Musgrave, 167 USPQ 280 (CCPA 1970) and In re Johnston, 183 USPQ 172 (CCPA 1974)). The invention in the body of the claim must recite technology. If the invention, in the body of the claim, is not tied to technological art, environment, or machine, the claim is not statutory (see Ex parte Bowman, 61 USPQ2d 1665, 1671 (BD. Pat. App. & Inter. 2001).

Also note MPEP 2106 IV 2(b). Examiner notes that this is not a precedential decision but it is being cited for its analysis of whether the claim is in the technological arts.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 175-187 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Joao et al. (US 6047270A).

Joao et al. disclose a method for effecting a sale using a communication network (col. 8, lines 10-25) by storing a plurality of predetermined sale limits for a plurality of users (col. 8, lines 25-45), receiving a transmitted request for sale transaction (col. 6, lines 5-20), receiving information transmitted from a user in the sale transaction, using the information from the user in the sale transaction to identify a predetermined sale limit for the user in the sale transaction and limiting the user in the sale transaction to the predetermined sale limit (see col. 8, lines 5-65).

Art Unit: 3624

Specifically as to claim 176, where the predetermined sale limit identifies a maximum sale amount permitted within a predetermined period of time (see col. 8, lines 25-45).

Specifically as to claim 177, where the information transmitted from a user is a password (see col. 7-8).

Specifically as to claim 178, where the password is a personal identification number (see col. 7-8).

Specifically as to claim 179, where the information transmitted from a user includes address information associated with the user (see col. 11-12).

Specifically as to claim 180, where the address information is a computer network address (see above for claim 179).

Specifically as to claim 181, where the address information is a billing address (see above claim 179).

Specifically as to claim 182, verifying the address information, (see col. 8-9).

Specifically as to claim 183, determining a sale limit for a user for whom no predetermined sale limit has been stored in the step of storing (see col. 8).

Specifically as to claim 184, consulting one or more external databases (see col. 8).

Specifically as to claim 185, external database is a banking institution (see cols. 6 and 8).

Specifically as to claim 186, effecting the sales transaction, storing information identifying an amount of the transaction, and using the information (see cols. 6 and 8).

Art Unit: 3624

Specifically as to claim 187, reducing a user's predetermined sales limit based on the stored information identifying an amount of the sales transaction (see cols. 5, 6, 8).

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Foladare et al. (US005914472A) disclose a credit card spending authorization control system. Watson (US005991750A) discloses a method for preauthorization of individual account transactions. Nagata et al. (US 4594663) disclose a credit transaction processing system. Michels et al. (US 3719927) disclose a credit control system.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
